

To all my patients.

It is with a sad heart that I must inform you that I will be handing over my practice to Dr. Jeff and Lindsay Kwantes.

I have been thinking about making changes to my practice and planned a prolonged break starting with birth of our fourth child. I approached Dr Lindsay Kwantes about taking over my practice when they signed up doing the extended locum and on Friday the 23 rd November they had informed me that they would like to take over the practice. This will be effective December 1.

I regret the short notice. Please except my sincere apologies. However as you all know there will be no convincing this baby to delay things for a few months.

I did enjoy working with all of you and enjoyed my work tremendously. The staff and the rest of my colleges have always been very supportive, even in this decision. I am not leaving because I am unhappy, that is for sure. This was a decision I made with my family as my main priority. I will be working in the hospital full time now.

Dr Lindsay and Jeff Kwantes are well connected to the Okanagan. They will be delivering the same services I did. They are full service family physicians with special interest in primary care obstetrics. They will be looking after the patients admitted to the hospital and the long term care facilities. They are an absolutely lovely couple and will fit in very well with the rest of the team at the Centreville Clinic.

I thank you all for the 6 years of support and your forgiveness when I was running a "bit late".

Sincerely

Marius Aucamp.
